

Our Company

Cee-Jay Tool, LLC's first fully hydraulic stone splitter was delivered in 1950 – we are not a new company. For over half a century we have continued to develop our machinery with specific attention to safety, productivity (output volume and cut quality), serviceability and minimum total cost of ownership. Our efforts have resulted in the best value on the market for stone cutting and material handling equipment, whether you work as a field mason or operate a full-scale quarry or stoneyard.

To the best of our knowledge, on a unit basis, we are the #1 stone splitting equipment manufacturer in the world.

A few points we'd like to make:

1. We design and manufacture our machinery to be field serviceable with 'off-the-shelf' tools and parts whenever possible. When not possible, we will provide detailed service instructions and specific tooling and parts as required. We also maintain a field service staff if you prefer to have us handle the job. The choice is yours.
2. Our fully hydraulic cutting system provides the best cutting control and wear characteristics on the market. Our tight design tolerance, engineering excellence and manufacturing discipline, coupled with simple routine maintenance will provide you many (many) years of productive service between major maintenance activities. Our machinery is designed for continuous service under harsh conditions.

We make the best stone cutters on the market. We offer the best prices on the market. It would be our pleasure to help you build your business. Give us a call so we can help you understand how an investment in our equipment will be an investment in your bottom line.
